

Republican State Ticket.

For Governor,
R. B. HAYES, of Sandusky.
Lieutenant Governor,
THOS. L. YOUNG, of Hamilton.
Supreme Judge,
GEORGE W. McILVAINE.
Auditor,
JAMES WILLIAMS, of Franklin.
Attorney-General,
JOHN LITTLE, of Greene.
Treasurer,
J. MINOR MILLIKEN, of Butler.
Member of Board of Public Works,
PETER THATCHER, of Cuyahoga.
Judges,
S. S. KNOWLES, Washington.
J. P. BRADBURY, Meigs.

Republican County Ticket.

Representative—E. A. STONE.
Auditor—J. H. EVANS.
Sheriff—CHARLES STUART.
Treasurer—W. W. MARTINDALE.
Probate Judge—H. A. KENT.
Recorder—IRA W. BOOTON.
Prosecuting Attorney—L. PERRY.
Commissioner—H. C. NIDAY.
Infirmary Director—S. G. KELLER.
Coroner—S. R. MCCORMICK.

Democratic Relief for Hard Times.

The democrats propose three modes of relief for the hard times. First, more greenbacks; second, a tariff for the sole purpose of revenue; third, the extinction of the present National Banks. The first, more greenbacks, might possibly afford temporary relief, but taking the three propositions together, the plan would work disaster and ruin instead of relief. A tariff for the sole purpose of revenue would extinguish the fires of thousands of manufacturing establishments in the country, and turn out the operatives to starve and perhaps die. Millions more of greenbacks could not save them. Then the extinction of the National Banks would require these institutions to call in their loans. These amount to 950 millions of dollars, and think you this vast sum could be collected without working disaster and ruin to the creditor class? And this is the democratic plan of relief for the hard times! Let it be made possible by giving power to the democrats, and you will see such tight times in this country as it has never experienced but once perhaps, in the one hundred years of its existence. The property of every man in debt would be brought under the Sheriff's hammer, and would be sacrificed to pay costs and interest, leaving the principal unsatisfied. In our experience we have seen precisely such scenes in Gallia county, the result of the destruction of the old United States bank, and the establishment in its stead of wild-cat State institutions. By referring to the columns of the JOURNAL of that period, from 1838 to 1844, you will find therein from six to eight columns of Sheriff's advertisements preceding each term of the Court. There were no bidders; the property was advertised and re-advertised, until it failed to bring enough in some cases, to even pay the printer's fees. This result was produced by the democrats tinkering with the currency. And now they ask us to another feat of the same character. They cannot let well enough alone. Demagogues want the offices, and they are willing to sacrifice the entire industrial interests of the country, subject the laborer and the artisan to starvation, and their families to pauperism, to secure them. God put it into the hearts of the people to stay the evil in its incipient stages, before it comes upon us in its alarming consequences, otherwise devastation and ruin, tears and agony, will overwhelm us as never before.

The Democratic National Convention held at Baltimore in 1872, declared:

"A speedy return to specie payment is demanded alike by the highest considerations of commercial morality and honest government."

That was democracy three years ago. What is it to-day? Paper with out specie payment. What was "commercial morality and honest government" in 1872 is in 1875 ruin and bankruptcy! A man who would conduct his private affairs with such an utter disregard of principle, of honor, of even common honesty, would be classed as a rogue by his neighbors, and one unworthy of public respect. And this is the party that young men are asked to ally themselves with! Better hang a mill stone about your neck and be cast into the river. Then you might die respected.

Choice Literature.

Gov. Allen said in his speech in this city:

"When the truth comes fair and apart into my brain I will utter it if it hurts me."

That is choice language for a Governor of the great State of Ohio, but low as it is Sam. Cary can beat it. At Ironton, speaking of the daughters of the wealthy, he said:

"They have curvature of the spine and curetore of the morals."

And this dirty blackguard asks the people of Ohio to elect him Lieut. Governor. They have too much respect for themselves to do it.

Our Congressman has given us a foresight of his policy. Office-holders, especially those of West Virginia, are not to be allowed to attend any but democratic meetings, under penalty of being abused and black-guarded through his organ, the Bulletin.

Where will you find a specimen of political intolerance and bigotry more intolerable than that? Neither Bill Allen or Sam. Cary can beat it.

NEW. ROBINSON, Esq., is the Republican nominee for Senator in the Scioto-Jackson District.

The True and the Bogus.

The Bulletin editor, in speaking to young men, says:

"I am daily conversing with the Democratic party of the Republic, whose founders and prophets were Jefferson, Franklin, Madison, and Jackson."

If there was any resemblance, any affinity, between the present Ohio Democracy and that of the "founders and prophets" above named, there might be a little show of sense and aptness in the advice tendered. But there is not the slightest connection between the two. They are as far apart as the poles; as different as darkness and light. It would be much more to the honor of these Ohio demagogues to acknowledge their separation from the "founders and prophets," and the establishment of a new democracy, than an attempt to deceive and mislead the young by claiming to be the successors of Jackson, Franklin, &c. But no, that is a standard of virtue to which the leaders of the Ohio democracy do not aspire, and we expect them to go on deceiving and misleading to the end of the campaign.

But now for the "founders and the prophets," and if you can find any resemblance between their democracy and that of Allen, Cary, Vance, Alchire & Co., then we will acknowledge ourselves a fool, and that white is black, and black is white.

In a letter to a friend in Cincinnati, in 1842, Gen. Jackson wrote these words:

"A National paper currency is a great curse to any people, and a particular curse to the laborer of any country, for its depreciation always falls upon the laborer."

Madison, in writing to Jefferson upon this subject, said:

"The paper money here ceased to circulate very suddenly a few days ago. Nothing but evil springs from this imaginary money, wherever it is tried, and yet the appetite for it, wherever it has not been tried, continues to be felt."

Even Bill Allen was once a democrat after the fashion of the "founders and prophets." In 1842, in a speech in the Senate, he said:

"You may patch up the laws as much as you please; you may wall in the District with bank paper, and the only evil would be to create the more urgent and imperative necessity for a return to specie payments."

Again, in 1846, the Democratic leaders in Ohio, desiring to warn the people against the evils of a paper currency, said:

"The laborer, the farmer, the mechanic would be subjected to none of these hardships, would be deluded by demagogues, if they were paid for their labor in gold and silver. Such a currency the Democracy now offer to them. They do not want one kind of money for the office-holder and another for the people. They want one currency for the whole people, a currency that is real, firm, stable, uniform, unwavering, always valuable, and never depreciated, incapable of contraction to-day and expansion to-morrow, always current and at par, not only in every State in our Union, but in every country upon the face of the earth. There is but one such currency, and that is gold and silver."

These extracts are ample to accomplish the purpose we had in view, namely, to show that the democracy of the Allen-Cary school is the precise opposite of that preached by the "founders and prophets," and that it is a fraud of the gravest character—one which should consign the perpetrators to everlasting infamy, if not to the penitentiary—to attempt to palm it off upon the people as coming from Jackson, Jefferson, &c. Such a deceit would shame any one but a hardened demagogue. It is an insult to the memory of the "founders and prophets," which the true friends of those eminent men and leaders should rebuke, by casting their votes against this bogus democracy.

A Most Horrible Murder.

(Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.)

MARIETTA, Ohio, Aug. 11, 1875.

A most fiendish act has recently been perpetrated by some one. The Register of to-day has the following:

"On Monday last some parties who were getting driftwood out of a pile on the Ohio River bank, near McClure's Station, eight miles below Marietta, discovered the body of a woman lodged in the drift, and at once proceeded to take it out and place it under ground until the Coroner could be notified. The body was minus a head, arms and legs. Tuesday Coroner Kiger went down and proceeded to hold an inquest. An examination developed the following facts: The body was that of a woman perhaps twenty to twenty-five years of age; had been in the water about ten days; was found on a level with the highest water reached by the recent flood. Her head was cut off close to her body; her arms had been uninjured at the shoulders, one leg had been cut off with an ax or cleaver, as a mark of some heavy instrument was plainly visible on the bone, which protruded. There were no other marks. The jury gave a verdict that the body was unknown, and that she came to her death by violence at the hands of parties unknown to the jury. The body of the woman was entirely nude. None of the limbs or head of the woman were found."

The School Question.

The Bulletin attacks Gen. HAYES because he exposed the attempts of the Catholics, through the democratic party, to destroy the freedom of our common school system. Gen. HAYES had good reasons for presenting that question to the people in the way he did. And not alone in Ohio is this question coming to the front, but in other States also. The important point is, says Harper's Weekly, not what democrats may say upon the subject in Ohio, but what they do in every State of the Union. "The peril lies in the servile obedience of the Democratic leaders to the Roman priesthood, as shown by the passage of the Gaghan bill. Take Connecticut for another example. Harper's Weekly tells the story in this wise:

A partially successful attempt has already been made in New Haven, Waterbury, and New Britain to obtain a share of the money for Catholic schools, and during the recent session of the Legislature, in which the majority was Democratic, Mr. Lynde Harrison, a well-known Republican, introduced an amendment to the Constitution expressly prohibiting any grant to sectarian institutions. It was referred to the committee upon the subject, composed of five Democrats and three Republicans. The Republicans with one Democrat, reported the amendment favorably, the other four Democrats adversely. Action was delayed in the House because the Democratic majority wished to avoid any record upon the subject. We now proceed to state facts which read upon the best authority. As soon as the amendment was introduced, Father Hughes, a leading Roman Catholic clergyman in Hartford, noted the Democratic managers that it must not be allowed to pass. Conferences were held in New Haven, at which Governor Ingersoll and the editors of two of the chief Democratic papers in the State were present, with members of the Democratic State Committee, and it was decided, in obedience to the priestly demand, that the amendment must be killed. A caucus was held, in which it was resolved that the proposition should be made a party question, and should be defeated by a motion of indefinite postponement. Meanwhile the priests were invited to appear before the committee and publicly give reasons for opposing the amendment. But they failed to come, and were content with private interviews with Democratic leaders.

Choice Literature.

Gov. Allen said in his speech in this city:

"When the truth comes fair and apart into my brain I will utter it if it hurts me."

That is choice language for a Governor of the great State of Ohio, but low as it is Sam. Cary can beat it. At Ironton, speaking of the daughters of the wealthy, he said:

"They have curvature of the spine and curetore of the morals."

And this dirty blackguard asks the people of Ohio to elect him Lieut. Governor. They have too much respect for themselves to do it.

Our Congressman has given us a foresight of his policy. Office-holders, especially those of West Virginia, are not to be allowed to attend any but democratic meetings, under penalty of being abused and black-guarded through his organ, the Bulletin.

Where will you find a specimen of political intolerance and bigotry more intolerable than that? Neither Bill Allen or Sam. Cary can beat it.

NEW. ROBINSON, Esq., is the Republican nominee for Senator in the Scioto-Jackson District.

The True and the Bogus.

The Bulletin editor, in speaking to young men, says:

"I am daily conversing with the Democratic party of the Republic, whose founders and prophets were Jefferson, Franklin, Madison, and Jackson."

If there was any resemblance, any affinity, between the present Ohio Democracy and that of the "founders and prophets" above named, there might be a little show of sense and aptness in the advice tendered. But there is not the slightest connection between the two. They are as far apart as the poles; as different as darkness and light. It would be much more to the honor of these Ohio demagogues to acknowledge their separation from the "founders and prophets," and the establishment of a new democracy, than an attempt to deceive and mislead the young by claiming to be the successors of Jackson, Franklin, &c. But no, that is a standard of virtue to which the leaders of the Ohio democracy do not aspire, and we expect them to go on deceiving and misleading to the end of the campaign.

But now for the "founders and the prophets," and if you can find any resemblance between their democracy and that of Allen, Cary, Vance, Alchire & Co., then we will acknowledge ourselves a fool, and that white is black, and black is white.

In a letter to a friend in Cincinnati, in 1842, Gen. Jackson wrote these words:

"A National paper currency is a great curse to any people, and a particular curse to the laborer of any country, for its depreciation always falls upon the laborer."

Madison, in writing to Jefferson upon this subject, said:

"The paper money here ceased to circulate very suddenly a few days ago. Nothing but evil springs from this imaginary money, wherever it is tried, and yet the appetite for it, wherever it has not been tried, continues to be felt."

Even Bill Allen was once a democrat after the fashion of the "founders and prophets." In 1842, in a speech in the Senate, he said:

"You may patch up the laws as much as you please; you may wall in the District with bank paper, and the only evil would be to create the more urgent and imperative necessity for a return to specie payments."

Again, in 1846, the Democratic leaders in Ohio, desiring to warn the people against the evils of a paper currency, said:

"The laborer, the farmer, the mechanic would be subjected to none of these hardships, would be deluded by demagogues, if they were paid for their labor in gold and silver. Such a currency the Democracy now offer to them. They do not want one kind of money for the office-holder and another for the people. They want one currency for the whole people, a currency that is real, firm, stable, uniform, unwavering, always valuable, and never depreciated, incapable of contraction to-day and expansion to-morrow, always current and at par, not only in every State in our Union, but in every country upon the face of the earth. There is but one such currency, and that is gold and silver."

These extracts are ample to accomplish the purpose we had in view, namely, to show that the democracy of the Allen-Cary school is the precise opposite of that preached by the "founders and prophets," and that it is a fraud of the gravest character—one which should consign the perpetrators to everlasting infamy, if not to the penitentiary—to attempt to palm it off upon the people as coming from Jackson, Jefferson, &c. Such a deceit would shame any one but a hardened demagogue. It is an insult to the memory of the "founders and prophets," which the true friends of those eminent men and leaders should rebuke, by casting their votes against this bogus democracy.

A Most Horrible Murder.

(Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.)

MARIETTA, Ohio, Aug. 11, 1875.

A most fiendish act has recently been perpetrated by some one. The Register of to-day has the following:

"On Monday last some parties who were getting driftwood out of a pile on the Ohio River bank, near McClure's Station, eight miles below Marietta, discovered the body of a woman lodged in the drift, and at once proceeded to take it out and place it under ground until the Coroner could be notified. The body was minus a head, arms and legs. Tuesday Coroner Kiger went down and proceeded to hold an inquest. An examination developed the following facts: The body was that of a woman perhaps twenty to twenty-five years of age; had been in the water about ten days; was found on a level with the highest water reached by the recent flood. Her head was cut off close to her body; her arms had been uninjured at the shoulders, one leg had been cut off with an ax or cleaver, as a mark of some heavy instrument was plainly visible on the bone, which protruded. There were no other marks. The jury gave a verdict that the body was unknown, and that she came to her death by violence at the hands of parties unknown to the jury. The body of the woman was entirely nude. None of the limbs or head of the woman were found."

The School Question.

The Bulletin attacks Gen. HAYES because he exposed the attempts of the Catholics, through the democratic party, to destroy the freedom of our common school system. Gen. HAYES had good reasons for presenting that question to the people in the way he did. And not alone in Ohio is this question coming to the front, but in other States also. The important point is, says Harper's Weekly, not what democrats may say upon the subject in Ohio, but what they do in every State of the Union. "The peril lies in the servile obedience of the Democratic leaders to the Roman priesthood, as shown by the passage of the Gaghan bill. Take Connecticut for another example. Harper's Weekly tells the story in this wise:

A partially successful attempt has already been made in New Haven, Waterbury, and New Britain to obtain a share of the money for Catholic schools, and during the recent session of the Legislature, in which the majority was Democratic, Mr. Lynde Harrison, a well-known Republican, introduced an amendment to the Constitution expressly prohibiting any grant to sectarian institutions. It was referred to the committee upon the subject, composed of five Democrats and three Republicans. The Republicans with one Democrat, reported the amendment favorably, the other four Democrats adversely. Action was delayed in the House because the Democratic majority wished to avoid any record upon the subject. We now proceed to state facts which read upon the best authority. As soon as the amendment was introduced, Father Hughes, a leading Roman Catholic clergyman in Hartford, noted the Democratic managers that it must not be allowed to pass. Conferences were held in New Haven, at which Governor Ingersoll and the editors of two of the chief Democratic papers in the State were present, with members of the Democratic State Committee, and it was decided, in obedience to the priestly demand, that the amendment must be killed. A caucus was held, in which it was resolved that the proposition should be made a party question, and should be defeated by a motion of indefinite postponement. Meanwhile the priests were invited to appear before the committee and publicly give reasons for opposing the amendment. But they failed to come, and were content with private interviews with Democratic leaders.

Choice Literature.

Gov. Allen said in his speech in this city:

"When the truth comes fair and apart into my brain I will utter it if it hurts me."

That is choice language for a Governor of the great State of Ohio, but low as it is Sam. Cary can beat it. At Ironton, speaking of the daughters of the wealthy, he said:

"They have curvature of the spine and curetore of the morals."

And this dirty blackguard asks the people of Ohio to elect him Lieut. Governor. They have too much respect for themselves to do it.

Our Congressman has given us a foresight of his policy. Office-holders, especially those of West Virginia, are not to be allowed to attend any but democratic meetings, under penalty of being abused and black-guarded through his organ, the Bulletin.

Where will you find a specimen of political intolerance and bigotry more intolerable than that? Neither Bill Allen or Sam. Cary can beat it.

NEW. ROBINSON, Esq., is the Republican nominee for Senator in the Scioto-Jackson District.

The True and the Bogus.

The Bulletin editor, in speaking to young men, says:

"I am daily conversing with the Democratic party of the Republic, whose founders and prophets were Jefferson, Franklin, Madison, and Jackson."

If there was any resemblance, any affinity, between the present Ohio Democracy and that of the "founders and prophets" above named, there might be a little show of sense and aptness in the advice tendered. But there is not the slightest connection between the two. They are as far apart as the poles; as different as darkness and light. It would be much more to the honor of these Ohio demagogues to acknowledge their separation from the "founders and prophets," and the establishment of a new democracy, than an attempt to deceive and mislead the young by claiming to be the successors of Jackson, Franklin, &c. But no, that is a standard of virtue to which the leaders of the Ohio democracy do not aspire, and we expect them to go on deceiving and misleading to the end of the campaign.

But now for the "founders and the prophets," and if you can find any resemblance between their democracy and that of Allen, Cary, Vance, Alchire & Co., then we will acknowledge ourselves a fool, and that white is black, and black is white.

In a letter to a friend in Cincinnati, in 1842, Gen. Jackson wrote these words:

"A National paper currency is a great curse to any people, and a particular curse to the laborer of any country, for its depreciation always falls upon the laborer."

Madison, in writing to Jefferson upon this subject, said:

"The paper money here ceased to circulate very suddenly a few days ago. Nothing but evil springs from this imaginary money, wherever it is tried, and yet the appetite for it, wherever it has not been tried, continues to be felt."

Even Bill Allen was once a democrat after the fashion of the "founders and prophets." In 1842, in a speech in the Senate, he said:

"You may patch up the laws as much as you please; you may wall in the District with bank paper, and the only evil would be to create the more urgent and imperative necessity for a return to specie payments."

Again, in 1846, the Democratic leaders in Ohio, desiring to warn the people against the evils of a paper currency, said:

"The laborer, the farmer, the mechanic would be subjected to none of these hardships, would be deluded by demagogues, if they were paid for their labor in gold and silver. Such a currency the Democracy now offer to them. They do not want one kind of money for the office-holder and another for the people. They want one currency for the whole people, a currency that is real, firm, stable, uniform, unwavering, always valuable, and never depreciated, incapable of contraction to-day and expansion to-morrow, always current and at par, not only in every State in our Union, but in every country upon the face of the earth. There is but one such currency, and that is gold and silver."

These extracts are ample to accomplish the purpose we had in view, namely, to show that the democracy of the Allen-Cary school is the precise opposite of that preached by the "founders and prophets," and that it is a fraud of the gravest character—one which should consign the perpetrators to everlasting infamy, if not to the penitentiary—to attempt to palm it off upon the people as coming from Jackson, Jefferson, &c. Such a deceit would shame any one but a hardened demagogue. It is an insult to the memory of the "founders and prophets," which the true friends of those eminent men and leaders should rebuke, by casting their votes against this bogus democracy.

A Most Horrible Murder.

(Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.)

MARIETTA, Ohio, Aug. 11, 1875.

A most fiendish act has recently been perpetrated by some one. The Register of to-day has the following:

"On Monday last some parties who were getting driftwood out of a pile on the Ohio River bank, near McClure's Station, eight miles below Marietta, discovered the body of a woman lodged in the drift, and at once proceeded to take it out and place it under ground until the Coroner could be notified. The body was minus a head, arms and legs. Tuesday Coroner Kiger went down and proceeded to hold an inquest. An examination developed the following facts: The body was that of a woman perhaps twenty to twenty-five years of age; had been in the water about ten days; was found on a level with the highest water reached by the recent flood. Her head was cut off close to her body; her arms had been uninjured at the shoulders, one leg had been cut off with an ax or cleaver, as a mark of some heavy instrument was plainly visible on the bone, which protruded. There were no other marks. The jury gave a verdict that the body was unknown, and that she came to her death by violence at the hands of parties unknown to the jury. The body of the woman was entirely nude. None of the limbs or head of the woman were found."

The School Question.

The Bulletin attacks Gen. HAYES because he exposed the attempts of the Catholics, through the democratic party, to destroy the freedom of our common school system. Gen. HAYES had good reasons for presenting that question to the people in the way he did. And not alone in Ohio is this question coming to the front, but in other States also. The important point is, says Harper's Weekly, not what democrats may say upon the subject in Ohio, but what they do in every State of the Union. "The peril lies in the servile obedience of the Democratic leaders to the Roman priesthood, as shown by the passage of the Gaghan bill. Take Connecticut for another example. Harper's Weekly tells the story in this wise:

A partially successful attempt has already been made in New Haven, Waterbury, and New Britain to obtain a share of the money for Catholic schools, and during the recent session of the Legislature, in which the majority was Democratic, Mr. Lynde Harrison, a well-known Republican, introduced an amendment to the Constitution expressly prohibiting any grant to sectarian institutions. It was referred to the committee upon the subject, composed of five Democrats and three Republicans. The Republicans with one Democrat, reported the amendment favorably, the other four Democrats adversely. Action was delayed in the House because the Democratic majority wished to avoid any record upon the subject. We now proceed to state facts which read upon the best authority. As soon as the amendment was introduced, Father Hughes, a leading Roman Catholic clergyman in Hartford, noted the Democratic managers that it must not be allowed to pass. Conferences were held in New Haven, at which Governor Ingersoll and the editors of two of the chief Democratic papers in the State were present, with members of the Democratic State Committee, and it was decided, in obedience to the priestly demand, that the amendment must be killed. A caucus was held, in which it was resolved that the proposition should be made a party question, and should be defeated by a motion of indefinite postponement. Meanwhile the priests were invited to appear before the committee and publicly give reasons for opposing the amendment. But they failed to come, and were content with private interviews with Democratic leaders.

Choice Literature.

Gov. Allen said in his speech in this city:

"When the truth comes fair and apart into my brain I will utter it if it hurts me."

That is choice language for a Governor of the great State of Ohio, but low as it is Sam. Cary can beat it. At Ironton, speaking of the daughters of the wealthy, he said:

"They have curvature of the spine and curetore of the morals."

And this dirty blackguard asks the people of Ohio to elect him Lieut. Governor. They have too much respect for themselves to do it.

Our Congressman has given us a foresight of his policy. Office-holders, especially those of West Virginia, are not to be allowed to attend any but democratic meetings, under penalty of being abused and black-guarded through his organ, the Bulletin.

Where will you find a specimen of political intolerance and bigotry more intolerable than that? Neither Bill Allen or Sam. Cary can beat it.

NEW. ROBINSON, Esq., is the Republican nominee for Senator in the Scioto-Jackson District.

Neighborhood News.

Rev. Jesse Corn died at his residence in Lawrence county, last week, aged 79 years. Has been a preacher in the regular Baptist Church for 50 years.

A grain dealer tells the editor of the Ironton Register that there are not more than 1,000 bushels of last year's corn in that county.

The Scioto Valley Camp Meeting, on account of recent heavy rains, is postponed until September 8th.

This loss of corn between Waverly and Portsmouth, is estimated at $500,000.

The estimated loss to Washington county, by the late freshet, is placed at $200,000.

Rucker's store, at Scott Town, Lawrence county, was robbed last week of over one hundred dollars worth of goods.

At Middleport, Wednesday night last, Henry Long, a well-known ruffian, attempted to commit rape upon a little daughter of Lemuel Powell, aged eleven years. The girl was in a pasture-field near town in search of a cow. The villain was caught near Pomeroy by a posse of police, and was tried before the Mayor and bound over to the Common Pleas Court. The excitement was intense, and the authorities had to place a guard over the lock-up.

Dr. Cline, of Wilkesville, is the Republican candidate for Representative in Vinton county. Seth S. Haynes, of Danville, is the Democratic candidate for Sheriff in Meigs county.

Mr. D. J. James has gone to Gallia county, where his family is sojourning. While there he welcomed a new son to the vicissitudes of this sorrowful world.—Ironton Register.

Col. R. A. CONSTABLE, of Athens, is announced as a candidate for Common Pleas Judge before the Democratic Convention to be held in Pomeroy.

FINANCIAL.

OHIO VALLEY BANK.—This Bank is prepared to transact a general banking business. Buys Gold, Silver, Coins and Government Bonds at highest prices. Makes collections on all points and issues Drafts on principal Cities in the United States and Europe free of charge to regular Depositors. Solicits deposits of private as well as corporate funds, and allows liberal interest on all monies left on specified time.

Gallipolis Prices Current.

Corrected weekly by D. S. FORD.

For the week ending Aug. 18, 1875.

BUYING PRICES FOR COUNTRY PRODUCE

Dealers are paying the following prices for the various articles named:

Wheat, red, per bush, 1 40/00

" white, 1 60/00

Corn, 70/00

Rye, 1 30/00

Barley, 1 15/00

Sugar Cane Seed, per bush, 25

Oats, 45/00

Flaxseed, 1 75/00

Flour, ext, 3 75/00

Buckwheat flour, ext, 80

Corn Meal, bush, 40/00

Potatoes, per bush, 1 50/00

White Beans, 1 00/00

Dried Apples per bush, 2 00/00

Do Peaches do, 2 00/00

Peas, per bush, 18/00

Eggs per doz, 10/00

Bacon Hams, 14/00

Do Sides, 14/00

Do Shoulders, 12/00

Hay per ton, 14 00/00

Sorghum Molasses per gal, 12/00

Green Hides, per lb, 5/00

RETAIL PRICES.

Groceries and other articles retail from store at the following prices:

Sugar, N O per lb, 10/00

Do Refined, Crush'd & Pow'd 12 1/2/00

Coffee, Rio, 2